Ruby Nix Griffin Herring's maternal grandfather was James William Crow. It has been reported through family history that he was a full blood Crow Indian that had escaped from a prison train and made his home in Texas. On the 1880 Census of Milam County, TX he reports himself as being white and born in Texas. The 1900 Census of Milam County, TX he reports being white and born in Arkansas. Laura Bell reports her father also being born in Arkansas on the 1900 Census; makes me wonder if he really was Indian or not.

James Crow served three months in Company C 20th Texas Cavalry, known as Bass's Division during the Civil War. His record reads; "Crow, James Wm (private): enlisted 22 Mar 1862, Kaufman Co; 36; discharged 22 Jun 1862; 5'10", blue eyes, dark hair, discharged for being over 35 (now 37) 30 Jun 1862."

The State of Texas promised to give men land if they enlisted and served at least three months in the Confederate Army during the Civil War. James Crow served three months before he was discharged for being "too old". He also qualified for indigent veterans benefits.

I believe that the first two children listed are the step daughters of Sarah Jane Bryan Crow. I have come to this conclusion by the following:

- 1) Both girls were born before James married Sarah
- 2) In the 1900 Milam County Census records, Sarah stated that she had 11 children, 9 of which were still living.
- 3) After James' death and in the 1910 Milam County Census records, Sarah stated that she had 9 children, of which 7 were still living.

- i. MARY JANE³ CROW, b. November 03, 1857⁶; d. Unknown; m. S. J. CASTLEMAN, June 10, 1890⁶; d. Unknown.

Notes for MARY JANE CROW:

According to the Crow/Nix bible information Mary Jane Crow was married to a S.J. Castleman, but according to the research of Jeanne Moss, S.J. Castleman was actually married to Mary's sister Nancy Isabella Crow. The only other explanation is that S. J. Castleman might have been married to both, but at this time I don't know for sure, so I have him attached to both Mary Jane and Nancy as spouses.

At this time, we are unsure when Levenia Crow Yoakum's husband Herbert Lee passed on. Some researchers believe that Herbet died January 26, 1945. However, on the 1910 Milam County Census records you will see that Luvernia Yoakum is living with Sarah Crow, and both list themselves as widows. Also, in January of 1914, a Mrs. H. L. Yoakum (which I believe to be Luvernia), deeded some property to Sarah Crow. Mrs. Yoakum gave her marital status as being a widow. There will need to be some further investigation into this matter.

Notes for WILLIAM ALFRED CROW:

Jeanne Moss Family Data listed William Alfred Crow's birth as 13 March 1874, we will have to look further into this information to figure out which date is correct.

William was only 18 years old. He and his sisters were attending a party at the home of a Mr. Singleton. He had been calling some sets for the others to dance by. When he took a break, a man he didn't know staggered up to him and told him he was imposing on an orphan boy. William told him he hadn't been imposing and the man called him out to the yard to settle it. On the gallery he passed by William saying "I'll fix you." He put his right hand under his coat as if to draw a weapon but seemed to have trouble getting it out. At this point William put his hand into his pocket and pulled his knife and stabbed the man. William went inside and told his sister he had stabbed a man and there was going to be trouble. "Let's go home." He and the girls went out by another door, got in their wagon and went home. At home he told his mother what had happened and his parents told him to hide out until the sheriff came. The sheriff testified in this trial that he went to the home of William Crow and that William surrendered to him later that evening at his brother-in-law's home. His brother-in-law was named Nix. I do not know the outcome of this trial because that was the end of the transcription, but he must have been convicted because there is also part of his appeals trial. Apparently he was convicted because he ran away. In the appellate trial, the judge ruled that his mother's testimony should have been admitted in the first trial because he would certainly have told her the truth since he went home within minutes of the incident and would not have had time to fabricate a story for his defense.

Notes for EDNA RUBY NIX:

As told to Marilyn Herring Drew by her mother, Ruby, around 1919 she and her first husband, Joseph Cisco Griffin ran a cafe in Cyril, OK. Joe had a heart condition and apparently his doctor told him he had to give up the hectic cafe business and do something that was less of a strain. By 1920 Joe, Ruby and their two little daughters, Nettie Faye and Arlie Bell, were living in a tent with only a dirt floor. On the 1920 census it looks as if they were living on Will Herring's homestead. In late January of 1920 they all caught the flu. Ruby recalled that Joe died in bed while she lay next to him. Joseph Griffin died on 1 Feb 1920. Joe's funeral was delayed two weeks until Ruby was well enough to attend. It was known in the family that Will and Joe were good friends and Will promised to care for Joe's family after his death. Keeping his promise, 45 year old Will married 22 year old Ruby on 4 April 1920.
